

...connecting you back to campus...

Invest.

Remember those times in college you wish you had a wise, experienced individual to invest in your life or help you know which way to go? We remember those days. And are confident you do as well.

So, we are calling on your expertise, or passion, or place in life. Wherever you are – you have advice to give. Even if you don't feel like you do. ...you do.

You've got what our sophomores are looking for.

So, sign up and start investing today.

How it works

Fill out a short application by April 15, 2016, and you will be paired with a current MCC sophomore who is looking for someone just like you. You will be informed of your pairing and then be on your way to sharing life advice and more!

- Going into ministry, low-paying jobs—opp to give back to students
- Help develop
- Create awareness of things you wish you had known
- Real-world perspective
